

International Youth Day 2020

Competition - Call for articles by Young People on Reproductive Health and Healthy Lifestyles

Background:

UNFPA and the Royal Health Awareness Society (RHAS) in collaboration with Y-PEER Network are celebrating the International Youth Day (IYD) 2020 to shed light on the need to enable the engagement of youth by making local, national and global institutions more inclusive for the purpose of strengthening their capacity (and relevance) to achieve global action. In particular, IYD 2020 seeks to highlight the ways in which the engagement of young people at the local, national and global levels is enriching national and multilateral institutions and processes, as well as draw lessons on how their representation and engagement in formal institutional politics can be significantly enhanced. This year, IYD seeks to put the spotlight on youth engagement through the following three interconnected streams:

- Engagement at the local/community level;
- Engagement at the national level (formulation of laws, policies, and their implementation) and;
- Engagement at the global level.
